

COLLABORATIVE BIOMEDICAL PUBLISHING

Bioscientifica collaborates with learned societies worldwide to provide high-quality publishing, events and association management to the biomedical community.

Our publishing portfolio includes five subscription journals, and three open access titles, that are essential reading for both researchers and clinicians.

Four of our five subscription journals are ranked in the top quartile of their Journal Citation Reports categories.

PROFIT FOR GOOD

By distributing its profits back to the biomedical and bioscience communities, Bioscientifica supports scientific research, medical practice and the drive for better public health.

Your subscription fees enable our partners to:

- Advance medical research through training events, where professionals share the latest clinical knowledge and experience.
- Produce treatment guidelines that enable health professionals to make more informed decisions about patient care.
- Distribute grants, awards and prizes that reward excellence at all medical and scientific career stages.
- Engage with the public through education events, interactive workshops, and free online resources, so that people can make informed decisions about their health.

Bioscientifica's publishing partners include:

"Society grants have been an integral part of my training, allowing me to develop my grant writing, teaching and supervision skills, and enabling me to attend conferences, giving me the opportunity to enhance my presentation and networking abilities."
